QUIET MONEY

THE FIRST QUIET WEEK

Seven days. Seven small pages. The first week of the Quiet Money Daily Planner, exactly as it appears in the book.

HOW TO USE THIS

Print it, or keep it open next to a notebook. Do one page a day. You do not need to start on a Monday: the book is undated, and so is this.

WHAT YOU WILL FIND

Day 1 to Day 5 are the five daily pages: Learn, By the numbers, Do it, Mindset, Action. Day 6 is the weekly check-in. Day 7 is the reflect-and-reset page. These are the real pages, not a mock-up.

ONE NOTE ON DAY 1

Day 1 asks for the Net Worth Snapshot at the front of the book. In this sample, use the notes lines: what you own, what you owe, and the difference.

A NOTE ON THE NUMBERS

Every number in this week is a worked example with its assumptions stated. Rates are hypothetical. None of it is a promise about what money will do, and none of it is advice about your situation.

DAY 1 LEARN | 2 NUMBERS | 3 DO IT | 4 MINDSET | 5 ACTION | 6 CHECK-IN | 7 RESET

Designed by Quiet Money with AI assistance. Educational content, not financial advice.

LEARN

START WITH THE TRUTH

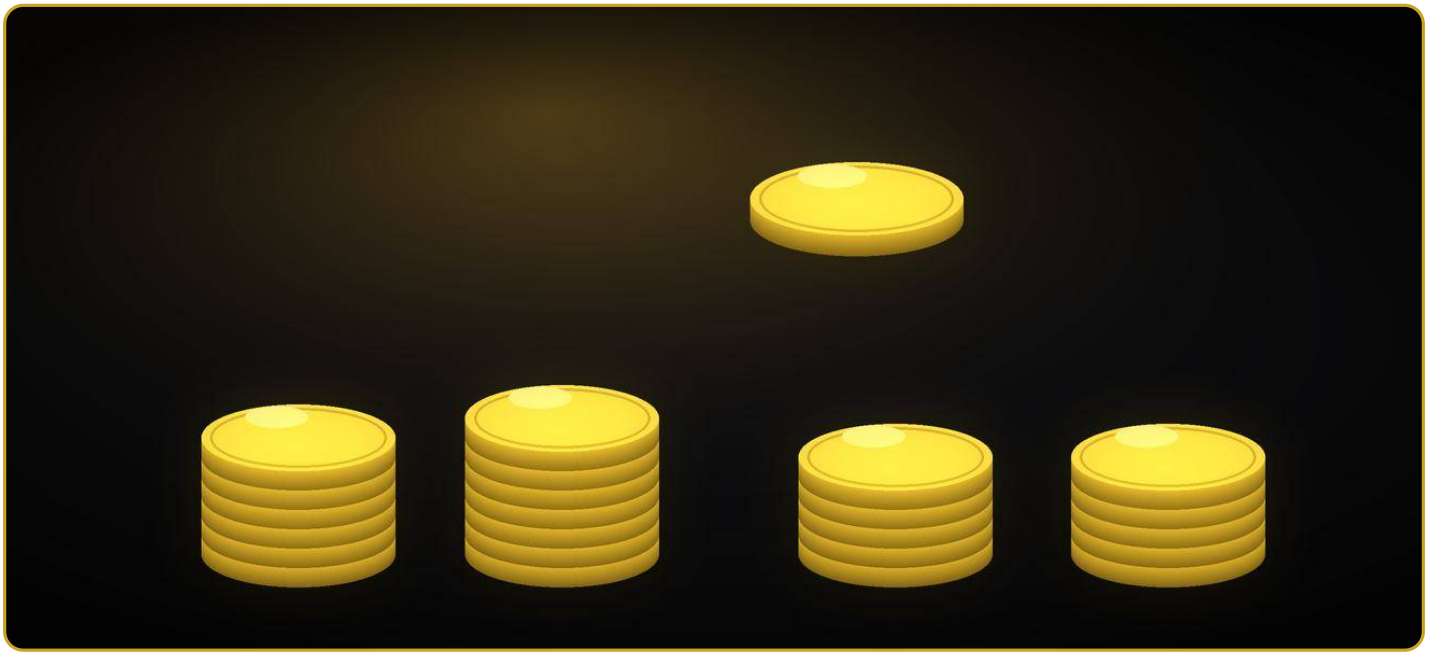

Net worth is what you own minus what you owe. It can be negative, and that is a starting line, not a verdict. Most people have never written it down, so doing it once already puts you ahead of yesterday.

TRY THIS

Fill in the Net Worth Snapshot at the front of this book. Round every number to the nearest $10 and do not judge any of it. ☐

My notes

Spent today $	Saved or paid down $	How I feel about money (1-5)

BY THE NUMBERS

THE $5 ROUNDING ERROR

A $5 a day habit is $1,825 a year. Put the same money into an investment every month for 30 years at a hypothetical 8% a year and it becomes $226,659. Small and daily is how both costs and savings grow.

TRY THIS

Write down one small thing you buy almost every day. Multiply its price by 365. ☐

My notes

Spent today $	Saved or paid down $	How I feel about money (1-5)

DO IT

FIND EVERY ACCOUNT

Money hides in places you forgot: an old savings account, a work retirement plan, a prepaid card, a refund you never claimed. You cannot manage what you cannot see.

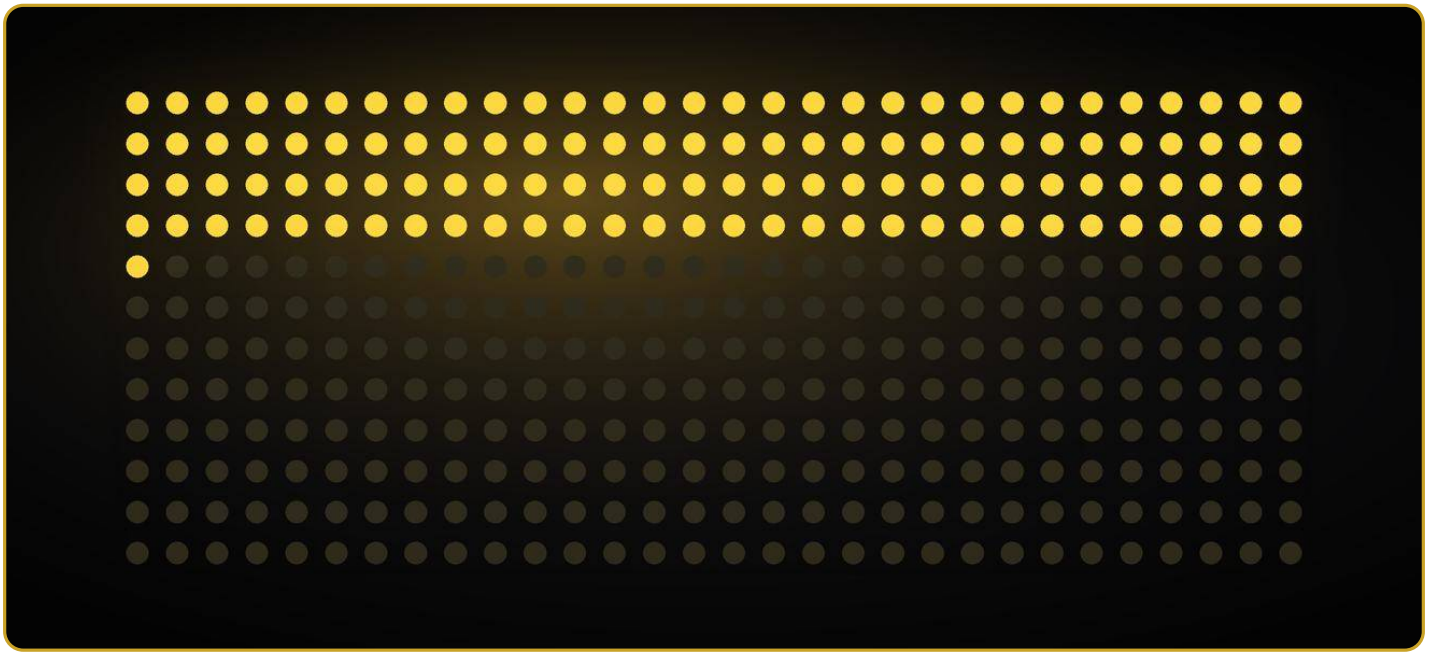

TRY THIS

Log into every account you have. Write each name and balance on one page so nothing hides from you.

☐

My notes

Spent today $	Saved or paid down $	How I feel about money (1-5)

MINDSET

THE OSTRICH EFFECT

Researchers use the name ostrich effect for the habit of not checking your accounts when you fear the news. Avoiding the number does not change the number. It only removes your chance to change it.

TRY THIS

Check one balance you have been avoiding. Write the number here, then take one slow breath. ☐

My notes

Spent today $	Saved or paid down $	How I feel about money (1-5)

ACTION

PICK YOUR TRACKING DAY

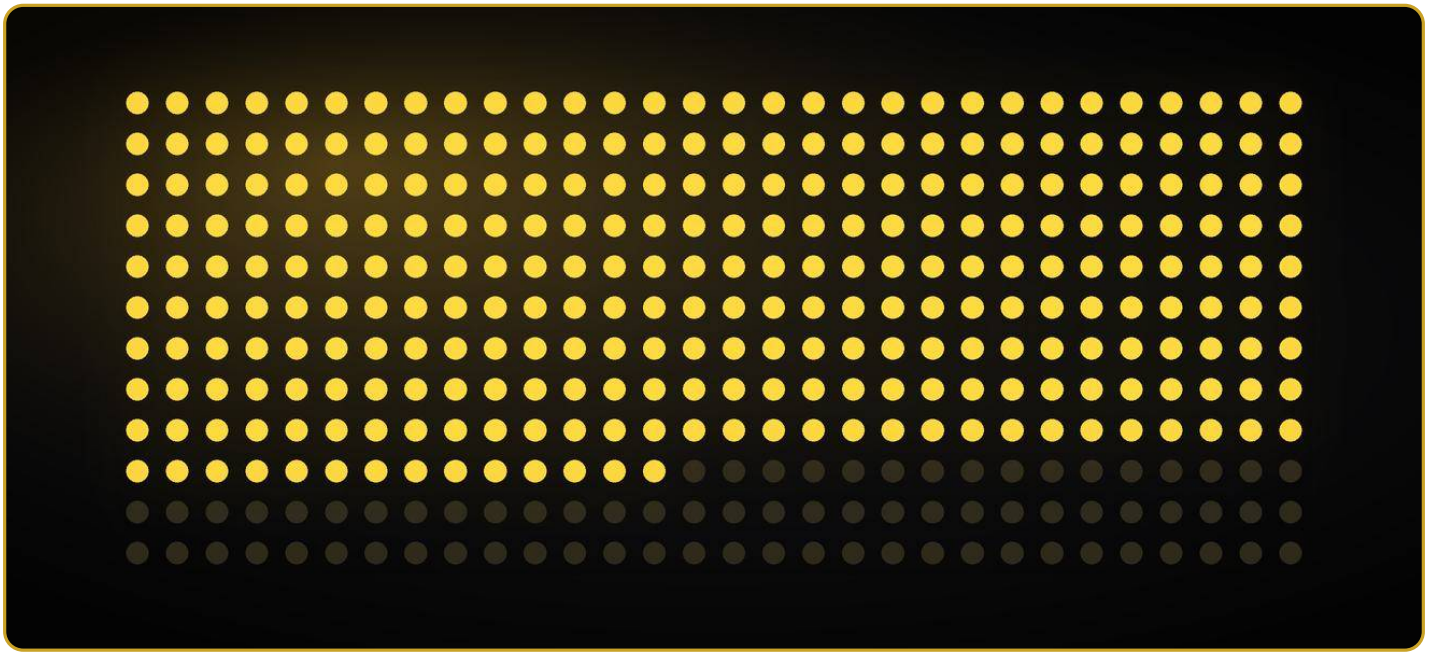

Money work sticks when it has a time. Pick one weekday and a time, such as Sunday at 6 pm, and treat it like a standing appointment with yourself.

TRY THIS

Choose your weekly money hour. Put it in your calendar with a repeating reminder. ☐

My notes

Spent today $	Saved or paid down $	How I feel about money (1-5)

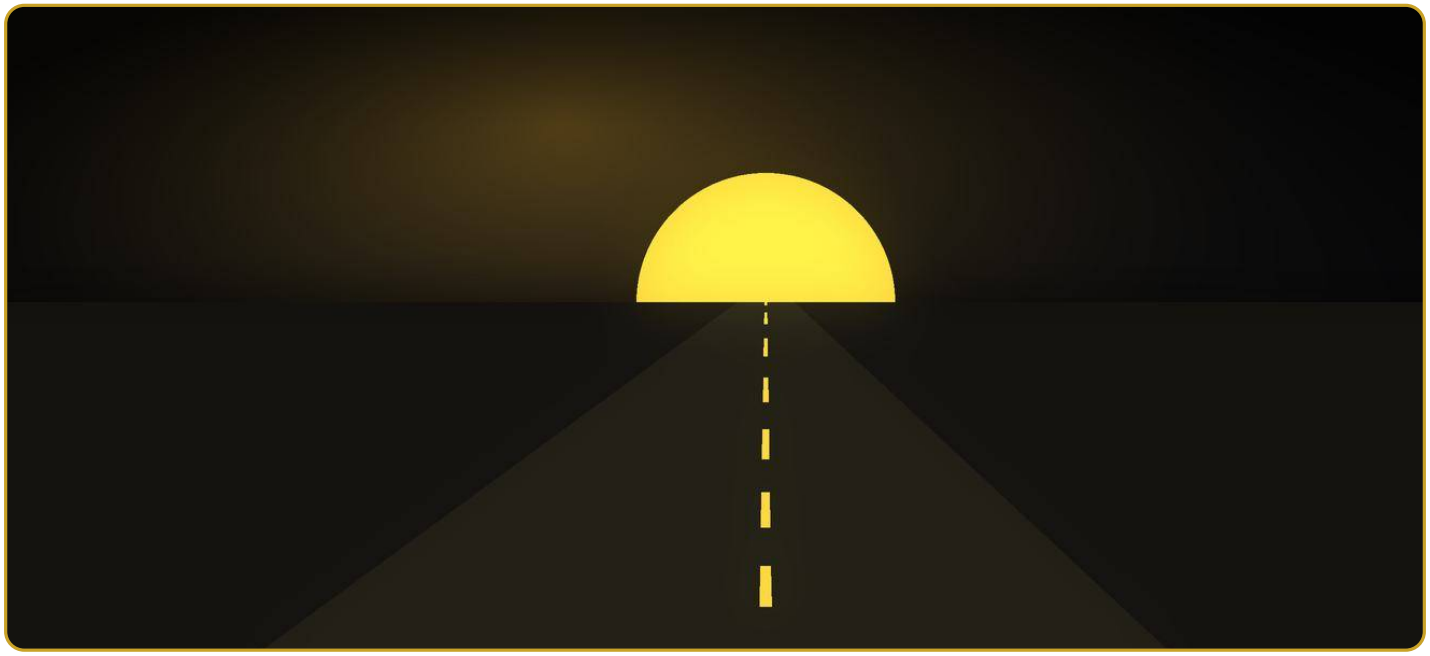

WEEKLY CHECK-IN

How did looking at the real numbers feel, and which number surprised you most?

Money in this week $	Spent this week $
Saved or invested $	Debt paid $

Three wins (any size)

One thing to fix next week

REFLECT AND RESET

What is one thing you now know about your money that you did not know seven days ago?

Next week I will (tick when done)

- ☐ _____
- ☐ _____
- ☐ _____

Money mood this week 1 2 3 4 5

YOU JUST DID WEEK 1 OF 52

That is how the whole book works: one page, one small action, a check-in on Saturday and a reset on Sunday. If you did even two of the seven days, you know more about your own numbers than you did last week.

If you want the other 51 weeks, the full Quiet Money Daily Planner is 427 printable pages in US Letter and A4, $17, with a 30-day refund.

GET THE FULL PLANNER

chrisclassroom4.gumroad.com/l/utwsfs

Designed by Quiet Money with AI assistance. Educational content, not financial advice. Every number is a worked example; rates are hypothetical.